Pat: Might want to have something added to the bill draft for 'requirement of Workers' comp. loss runs', relating to the 'employer's producer'. I'm going to assume that it will be necessary for a producer to have an "authorization" from the employer to 'request the loss run'. This would then show that the agent (producer) has a relationship with the employer. Otherwise, any producer could request loss runs on even a potential client. Could get messy! Need to add something like a "Letter of authorization" from the employer.
